BITUMTUM FIRE WAS ACCIDENTAL SAYS PREMIER

The $50,000 fire which destroyed a machine shop at the provincial government-sponsored oil sands test plant at Bitumtum was of an accidental nature.

Premier Ernest Manning said today a thorough investigation had disclosed no evidence of sabotage at the plant, though government officials had investigated every angle of the fire.

George A. Clash, chairman of the provincial marketing board, returned to Edmonton today after three days at the fire scene along with other government officials.

It was not disclosed if any delay in the plant opening scheduled for next month, would be caused by the blaze.

April Coal Output Shows Increase

April coal output in Alberta this year was 86,407 tons higher than the 1947 total for the same month according to John Crawford, chief inspector of mines of the Alberta department of lands and mines.

Major part of the increase was in the bituminous coal field on the Coal Branch and in southwestern Alberta in the Crownest Pass sector.

The sub-bituminous fields which include the long-strike-bound Edmonton mines show a decrease in total production.

Total production for the first four months of 1948 remains 471,439 tons below last year's level.

Alberta Student Admitted To Bar

In a court ceremony at Edmonton's courthouse today D. C. L. Jones, well known Edmonton solicitor and graduate in Arts and Law from the University of Alberta, was admitted to the Alberta bar by Mr. Justice G. B. O'Connor.

Born in Wales he came to Canada in 1919 at the age of six. He received his early education in Canada's public and high schools.

He entered the University of Alberta in 1938. In 1941 he joined the RCMP and for four years was an instructor in instrument flying.

He was presented for admission by George H. Steer, KC, to whom he had been articled.

Mr. Jones will be associated with the firm of Milner, Steer, Dyde, Poirier, Martland and Layton.

Clerics Debate Ban on Hutterites

Arms Exports, Housing and Pre-Marital Tests Discussed

Government restriction on expansion of Hutterite colonies in Alberta caused lively debate at the United Church conference Friday.

Committee on Evangelism and Social Service submitted a resolution protesting restriction of land sales to Hutterites.

Following warm debate conference delegates voted to support the present legislation. The resolution was defeated by a small majority.

Legislation approved at the 1947 session of the Alberta assembly restricts Hutterites to land holdings of 10,000 acres in any location, separated by at least 40 miles from a similar holding.

BASED ON PREJUDICE—Rev. W. H. Irwin of Hanna was chairman of the committee protesting the government legislation at the church conference. The committee contended the legislation is based on racial and religious prejudice.

Another resolution recommending stoppage of armament export from Canada was defeated by a heavy barrage of criticism and ultimate defeat.

Delegates opposing the armament resolution expressed the view that restriction of arms exports would only weaken opponents of Communism overseas.

A narrow majority quashed the arms resolution.

Resolutions brought forward by the Evangelism and Social Service committee were passed.

RECOMMENDATIONS MADE—Recommendations to the Dominion government include suggestions for federal low cost housing schemes, and a national health plan.

Premarital blood test results should be contained in certificates presented before issue of marriage licenses, is the text of a resolution to be forwarded to the Alberta government.

Opposition was voiced against liquor advertising in another resolution. Education against narcotics was recommended through the School of Narcotic Education to be taken place in August.

Rev. W. G. Berry, Regina, Associate Secretary of the Board of Evangelism and Social Service addressed delegates on relief and social service work.

RELIEF CONTRIBUTION—More than 10 million dollars in relief has been contributed by the United Church of Canada since 1939, he stated.

Rev. D. T. L. Forsyth and Rev. "Bob" McLaren were the speakers. Rev. McLaren addressed the group on life at the Youth Training School at Naramata, B.C., near Penticton.

City Delegates Say Convention Best Ever

Most successful convention in the history of the Canadian Legion has just been completed at Saskatoon.

This was the view expressed by Edmonton delegates who returned from Saskatoon today.

"It was the best convention of the Legion I have ever attended," Secretary-Manager W. Williams, M.L.A. of Edmonton Legion Branch No. 24, declared.

"I feel much will be accomplished for Canadian veterans by action taken by the convention," he added.

The "Zombie" membership issue was the most contentious matter on the agenda, Mr. Williams said.

The convention defeated a motion to have NRMA personnel who served in theatres of war at Jasper Avenue. This stop will now be the transfer point for the south side and west end.

This was announced today by Edmonton Transit officials.

The move is being made to permit having the main bus route between 108 and 109 streets and will continue in effect until the repairs are completed.

Stop Change Made Trolley Bus Route
Trolley coaches, street cars and gas buses travelling east and west on Jasper Avenue will now stop at 108 street instead 109 street on Jasper Avenue. This stop will now be the transfer point for the south side and west end.

This was announced today by Edmonton Transit officials.

The move is being made to permit having the main bus route between 108 and 109 streets and will continue in effect until the repairs are completed.

Alaska Highway Opening Delayed
Re-opening of the Alaska highway, scheduled for today, has been postponed because of spring floods.

More than 200 miles of the highway south and north of Whitehorse has been flooded from usually dry beds.

The flooded area extends from mile 702 to mile 909.

Long stretches of the highway are under more than three feet of water.

Besides raging torrents, Canadian Army Engineer maintenance troops must contend with surges and crests that bring dead timbers across the road from river banks.

An opening date cannot be set until floods subside.

HEART ATTACK PROVES FATAL

A heart attack while swimming in the South side swimming pool claimed the life of 25-year-old Robert Allison of Calgary about 8 p.m. Friday.

The deceased suffered the attack while in the water. He was pulled to the side of the pool but died immediately.

Allison had been working in the Leduc oil fields.

IN THE WORLD OF MUSIC

Summer Concerts
For City ParksPopular Orchestras Will Fill Engagements In June

By Dick Sherbanuk

With Edmonton's musical season now in its summer doldrums, the next few months will see little but the lighter kind of music.

First of the summer band concerts will be heard in the South Side park on June 6, when the Edmonton Schoolboys' Band will give citizens an opportunity to hear their music under blue Alberta skies.

John Farina, superintendent of public recreation for the city, has told this column that at least 10 of the popular concerts are planned for the summer months.

It is hoped by recreation commission officials that there will be more.

Co-operation of the Edmonton musicians' union has made the popular concerts possible.

CONCERTS EVERY SUNDAY

Mr. Farina stated that from July on, there will probably be concerts every Sunday at Victoria, Borden, or Queen Elizabeth parks, or the legislative building grounds.

In addition, the musicians will give concerts at veterans' hospitals in the city.

Other musical activities are being planned by the recreation commission.

Commission hopes to organize rhythmic games for youngsters at Edmonton grounds.

And after school is out, a series of free, teen-age dances with special reference to "old-time" music will be started, with instructors present to teach the offspring of the jitterbug age this other style of dancing.

Younger set may be interested to hear that two popular-music orchestras will appear at the Trocadero in June.

POPULAR ORCHESTRAS
Len Hopkins and his orchestra will play on June 9 and Freddy Martin and his entire group will play on June 16.

The Martin orchestra will travel here from a summer engagement at the famed Waldorf-Astoria.

No other dance bands will appear in Edmonton until September.

Evelyn Baker, lyric-dramatic soprano, formerly of Edmonton and now of Los Angeles, California, is storing a marked success in the U.S. musical world, this column was informed recently by her friend, Helen Ferris, 10539 126 street.

Miss Baker recently appeared at the Assistance League Playhouse, Hollywood, and was such a success that she has been asked to give another recital in September.

The former Edmonton singer portrayed Antonia's mother in Tales of Hoffman in California last September.

Commenting on her performance, the Long Beach Press-Telegram had this to say:

"Miss Baker was a marvellous both visually and vocally as the portrait of Antonia's Mother."

In November of last year, the Pacific Magazine lauded her "remarkable volume, tone quality, accuracy of pitch . . . and golden voice."

Miss Baker holds her ATCM degree in piano from the Toronto Conservatory of Music, but since going to the U.S. four years ago she has concentrated exclusively on vocal study.

MANY APPEARANCES
In Los Angeles she has appeared in opera, oratorio, in recital, and as church soloist.

She is now studying with Helen McCarthy Burt, and during the past year has had training under Alexey Emilio Roxas and Warner Bass.

Writes Miss Baker: "They have all been very encouraging, and it has been a wonderful experience."

Another Edmontonian is trying her fortune in the U.S. is Shirley Neher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Neher, 12103 92 street, left Vancouver last week for San Francisco.

Miss Neher was prominent in city musical activities before she left for Vancouver in 1944.

Definite word of her musical work in the California city is not yet known here, but it is understood she is interested in radio singing.

The former Edmonton soprano has been in Vancouver for the past two years with the "Theatre Under the Stars".

Her parents and her Edmonton music teacher, Madeleine Desautels, expect to hear from her within the next week.

For the first time in provincial musical festival history, a woman has been chosen as adjudicator for next year's chain of Canadian provincial festivals.

WOMAN ADJUDICATOR
She is a Miss Henshall, of London, England, who has established a fine reputation in the Old Country for concert singing to her own accompaniment.

Herbert who is a member of the executive committee of the Alberta Musical Festival Association told this column that other adjudicators for next year's festival (which will be held in Lethbridge) have not yet been chosen.

Mr. Turner, along with Victor Beringer and Ralph Cooper, attended meeting of the festival committee in Calgary last week.

He states that the provincial festival, which finished this week in Calgary, was a "very splendid" one, with high calibre of performance.

More than 700 entries were included in the festival.

Universal Social Security Is Aim

MONTREAL, May 29—(CP)—Social security experts from 20 countries, meeting as the International Labor Organization's Correspondence Committee on Social Security, wound up their week-long session at I.L.O. headquarters in Montreal yesterday with an undertaking to assist the I.L.O. in its program to extend social security protection to peoples everywhere.

The committee's recommendations will be submitted to the I.L.O.'s governing body when it meets at San Francisco June 12.

Stolen Cigarettes Recovered In B.C.

CALGARY, May 29—(CP)—Almost all of the $3,363 worth of cigarettes stolen from the Aspdon wholesale warehouse here last Sunday have been recovered at Merritt, B.C., Calgary police disclosed last night.

Police said information received from B.C. authorities said the loot was recovered in a truck also stolen here last Sunday. The truck and cigarettes were abandoned when the truck bogged down in front of a church at Merritt Wednesday.

THE JOURNALS OF ANDRÉ GIDE, 1914-1927. Translated and annotated by Justin O'Brien. 428 pages. Knopf, $6.

Here is the partial autobiography of André Gide, French intellectual, founder of the Nouvelle Revue Française, novelist, satirist and 1947 winner of the Nobel Prize for Literature.

These journals cover Gide's forty-fifth to fifty-eighth year, a period of deep spiritual self-probing and literary activity.

He records his tormented groping for faith; his increased interest in social problems; different attitudes towards the problem of homosexuality; his reflections on the Jewish question; and his judgments of Shakespeare, Balzac, Nietzsche, Freud, Dickens, and others.

Whether or not these journals were written with the thought of publication, they have the appearance of finality, of having been carefully thought out, and carefully written.

Gide's greatness as an artist and his conscientiousness as a man are apparent throughout this collection.

ALL THINGS CONSIDERED. By Howard Vais pages The Bobbs-Merrill Co., $3.50.

A superior newspaper columnist, Mr. O'Brien's work had that touch of genius which brought to his column, the leavening of humour, gentle irony, compassion, and deep integrity.

"All Things Considered" was also the name of his noted column which appeared in The Chicago Daily News from October, 1937, until July, 1947. In these years, it became as much a mid-western institution as a Nebraska dust storm.

Mr. O'Brien wrote of everything, and it was one of the chief attractions of his column that the reader never knew what he would write about. It was a column that dealt with such things as leaking faucets, his minor role at the wedding of his daughter, St. Louis in early morning and Phoenix in early evening, cats, Cab Calloway, nightgowns and curmudgeons.

The first seventy-five pages of the book are certainly not the writer at his best. It would be an injustice to say they were, because they were dictated from what proved to be his deathbed. From his dictated notes, the publishers pieced together these opening pages, which clearly show the marks of his suffering.

Chief attraction of the book is the excellent taste which was shown in the selection of columns from the hundreds he wrote. And because his column material was chosen from columns experienced by them, and as a result, the book, possesses an everlasting charm.

MICHAEL SHAYNE'S TRIPLE MYSTERY. By Brett Halliday. Generous triple value offering of robust Mike Shayne murder, mayhem and smart sleuthing. Three complete, hard-hitting and suspenseful stories.

CATS HAVE TALL SHADOWS. By D. B. Olsen.

The author of "Widows Ought to Weep" gives to mystery fans an offering of the elderly-maiden spinster sleuth, Rachael Murdock. The question of what was Rachael doing in the murdered man's bedroom is explained with difficulty.

SINISTER STREET. By Richard Burke.

Quincy Hite has all the superior characteristics endowed by generous authors of mysteries to most of their private eyes. Here, he untangles a lively mix-up of playwrights, blackmail, strip-teasers, jewel-thieves and, of course—murder.

THE BLEEDING SCISSORS. By Bruno Fischer.

This grisly thriller might best be capuled with these questions: What did the play called "The Virgin Mistress" have to do with Judith Alken's disappearance? With the murder of the Judith's sister? . . . With a man simply called EAT?

What did the play called "The Virgin Mistress" have to do with Judith Alken's disappearance? With the murder of the Judith's sister? . . . With a man simply called EAT?

Southern Alberta
Road Work Resumes

LETHBRIDGE, May 29—(CP)—Hard surfacing of highways in southern Alberta has resumed although frequent rains are delaying work. Laying of black-top on the 11-mile stretch of the Lethbridge-Coutts highway between Wilson and Stirling, uncompleted before winter snows came, is underway.

Two other Edmontonians—Mickey Nicholas and Jack Ross—broke even in their battles. Nicholas, a 147 pounder, lost to Herb Roland of Montreal and decisive Roland Baron from Toronto.

Ross, grappling in the 160-lb. class, was pinned by Montreal's Harry Hudson, but decisive Jack Hetherington from Kitchener, Ontario.

Lindsay Defeated
At Mat. Trials

TORONTO, May 29—(CP)—Johnny Lindsay, Dominion 126-lb. wrestling champion from Edmonton, dropped two matches in the Olympic wrestling trials here Friday night.

Andrieu Poliquin, Montreal, first pinned Lindsay in four minutes. In second round bouts Lindsay defaulted to Norman May of Toronto.

Two other Edmontonians—Mickey Nicholas and Jack Ross—broke even in their battles. Nicholas, a 147 pounder, lost to Herb Roland of Montreal and decisive Roland Baron from Toronto.

Ross, grappling in the 160-lb. class, was pinned by Montreal's Harry Hudson, but decisive Jack Hetherington from Kitchener, Ontario.

Rob Clester, Canadian 147-lb. wrestling champion since 1939, won the most thrilling fight of the evening from Ray Ricot of Montreal.

Civil Service May Get 5-Day Week

Commission Chairman Makes Favorable Report on Plan

By Dick Jackson

Edmonton Bulletin Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA, May 29.—Acceptance of the five-day week has been given in a report by civil service commission chairman Charles Bland to state secretary Colin Gibson.

And Col. Gibson has submitted the question to cabinet, personally hoping for its approval.

I have no way of knowing what the decision of cabinet will be, but speaking for myself I would like to see the five-day week approved.

Col. Gibson today told The Bulletin:

"I would like to see now the five-day week would work out this summer on a trial basis."

DECISION IN JUNE

The state secretary had no idea of how soon cabinet would reach the decision, but presumably it would be before the end of June, since, if approved, the five-day week would become operative the first week of July and continue through August.

In his report to Col. Gibson, while the weight of commission opinion was in favor of the shorter week, laid outlined both sides of the case.

If approved—and with Col. Gibson, the cabinet member in charge of the civil service supporting it, a favorable decision seemed likely—the five-day week would cause changes in the government schedule of the government staff not only in Ottawa, but in all parts of Canada.

NO EARLY CLOSING

1.—Early closing at 4:00 p.m. would be discarded, with government offices remaining open until 5:00 p.m.

time on Saturday morning, but working an extra hour in the afternoon Monday through Friday, the civil service would be on duty 38 hours instead of 31½ as would have been the case with early closing.

3.—The practice in some departments of releasing the staff at the lunch hour or early in the afternoon on particularly hot days would be abolished.

4.—Annual leave would be extended by three days, since in each week only five days instead of six would be charged against vacation time.

NWT Power Body Planned

OTTAWA, May 29.—(CP)—The government will introduce legislation establishing a power commission to develop electricity in the North West Territories, Acting Resources Minister MacKinnon disclosed yesterday.

He gave notice that he will introduce a resolution on Monday calling for the legislation.

The bill will facilitate the construction and operation of electric power plants in the North West Territories, his notice said. The power will be supplied to mines and other enterprises in the north. The power commission will be established to carry out construction and operation of the plants.

Memories of Flaming Era Evoked by Band of RCMP

Memories of a flaming era in western Canadian history will march down Edmonton streets when the band of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police visits here June 7-10.

The present band, formed in 1938, is the first "official" RCMP band.

In the past, seven bands existed, but they were all volunteer and broke up due to circumstances ranging from posting to losses in action.

The tour of the band will provide a striking contrast to the adventures of early members of the North-West Mounted Police.

It will leave Ottawa at 10:45 a.m. June 7, and arrive in Edmonton 6:45 p.m. the same day.

The first "Mounties" to come to Fort Edmonton arrived October 27, 1874, after an 80-day march from Dufferin.

Purchase of Road-Grader Decided by Taxpayers

West Jasper Place made a strong move last night to wards better roads, when the Taxpayers Association of that community passed a motion authorizing J. M. Stone, representative of District No. 1 (which includes West Jasper Place) on the Stony Plain municipal council, to purchase a road-grading machine immediately.

Three other motions that were passed at the monthly meeting of the Association urged the Stony Plain Municipal Council to:

• Create a by-law entailing the use of culverts when making a driveway and to keep them unobstructed after installation; make it illegal to use fire-arms in any of the subdivided areas in Division No. 1; have all operators of garden-hilling machinery who work in that area, made subject to a license fee.

A motion was passed which changed the constitution of the Association by enlarging the area wherein taxpayers are eligible for membership in the Association to include the whole of division number one.

In his report, president R. F. Lambert said that he was gratified that since the last meeting, membership had increased from 300 to 500.

The West Jasper Place Taxpayers Association was first organized 18 months ago by six residents who felt that the area which taxpayers are eligible for membership would be an asset to their community.

One of the founders, president Lambert, says that "proof" of the organization's worth is evidenced by the greatly increased membership and the comparative ease with which we have thrashed out our financial problems in the last year and a half."

SHOPPING GUIDE

Saturday Shopping Proves to Be Hectic

By Bea Thrifty

Saturday shopping days can be hectic—or you can have a lot of fun.

Morning shoppers are the wisest—stores are cooler, vegetables are fresher, clerks are less harassed—and everyone's humor is in far better shape.

By mid-afternoon—stocks of perishable commodities are running low, stores are packed with "rush-hour" shoppers, and you're lucky if you get half-way down your list of things to do. It's fun to go to the markets and watch the swarms of people trying to meet both their budget and their wants at least halfway.

Speaking of marketing—and we're managed to pick up a fairly firm head of green, early lettuce today for 25c, housewife tomatoes for 40c (still sky-high aren't they?), two pounds of spinach for 35c, two bunches of green onions for 15c and two bunches of radishes for another 15c. Looking a little farther—and squeezing the pump a bit harder, I bought a cauliflower—at 25c per pound.

Tired of potatoes the same old way day in day out? Here's how to give those spuds a bit of interest. Potato-cheese puffs are the answer.

Beat yolks of three eggs and blend with two cups hot mashed potatoes, seasoning with salt, milk and half cup cheese. Fold stiffly beaten egg whites (three) into the mixture and sprinkle the remaining cheese on top. Bake in moderate oven 'til light and toasted brown on the outside. Serve at once and you'll be Queen of the Kitchen. More potato patter: If anyone should ask you to make "Patties" tonight—these are the same old hashed-brown variety, with a little chopped green pepper added.

Greens are expensive and all indications point to a long wait before the prices go down to a level that will fit the sorely pressured budgets.

So when you do buy them, take good care of them. When you prepare greens, never wash them. Wash them quickly, then lift them from the water to free from sand and grit.

Prolonged soaking reduces both flavor and food value.

Peanut butter, cool and pretty with, ballerina skirts, are in all the shops and selling for $1.50 and up. Another saving hint: Use egg white to stretch whipped cream. With whipping cream almost twice its weight in gold, this idea is doubly valuable. Fold a meringue mass of one egg white and two tablespoons sugar into one cup whipped cream. It adds to both taste and texture besides making the whipped cream cover more desserts.

WHY GROW OLD

Worry Is Emotion Destroying Health

By Josephine Lowman

These are exciting but hectic times in which we are living. With all of the wonderful inventions and delightful living which the war research developed, yet it is a time when a woman could worry herself into a nervous breakdown if she put her mind to it.

This is especially true if you have a son of war age. Worry is one of the most destructive emotions on health. It is particularly true if your worry is not backed up by constructive action. That is one reason given for the fact that women are called "the men" of the home. Men can fight it out while women are supposed to be intuitive, and therefore stay in their homes.

It seems to me that it is not to live in an atmosphere of brightening facts which is the cause of your nervous system. This column is not to suggest that you should become phlegmatic or informed, for then we might all be like the little boy who said, "What's the use of worrying?" Just time, thank you, I rat get him.

However, there is no profit in listening to news broadcasts all day long or in reading four papers a day and you can never forget the caution in which the world finds itself. You will feel better if you do something constructive if you express your part in making America strong through action. Express your wish for preparedness to your legislators. Read and listen enough to know what is going on, and then forget it, because all the worrying you can possibly squeeze into every 24 hours will not help one bit.

This is true of every problem. Chronic worriers mail their worries over constantly, usually without doing anything about them. Action applied to a situation is the medicine for victims of worry, that great destroyer of health and happiness.

You can accomplish this through mental discipline, by replacing an unhappy thought by a pleasant one, by playing, busy and interested. If you wish to have psychological suggestions for overcoming the worry habit send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 64, "Worry." Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

Battling Parents Bad For Children

A correspondent asks: "What is your opinion of the effect it would have on children growing up in a home where the father never speaks to the mother because he has fallen in love with another woman?"

Undoubtedly it is a very bad thing for children to be reared in a home where the atmosphere is poisoned by the disagreement of their father and mother, but how much they will be injured by it depends upon the wisdom and the strength of their mother.

There are women who know their husbands to be unfaithful to them, whose hearts are broken by the knowledge that their husbands have ceased to care for them and whose pride is humbled into the dust by the affronts that are offered them, yet who, for the sake of giving their children a good home that their father can supply them with the advantages of education and social position that he could give them and they could not, somehow manage to carry on and keep their homes bright and cheerful in spite of what they are personally suffering.

In such cases the mother hides from the children their father's sin and weakness. Sometimes she even big enough to teach her children to respect their father and love him, for very often a bad husband is a good father. But it takes a woman with the spirit of a martyr and the courage of a hero to do this.

HALF SACRIFICES BAD, TOO Few women are big enough to make whole sacrifices. Most of them make half sacrifices. For the sake of their children they condone their husbands' infidelities to the extent of not leaving him and not breaking up their home.

Then they revenge themselves by indulging in never-ending quarrels with him and by bitter and jealous recrimination. Often a mother will even tell the children of the wrong their father has done her and make them fierce partisans of Israel.

There can be no question of the harm that is done when children are brought up in a home where there is perpetual strife and wrangling between their parents, and where they are taught by precept and example to dishonor their home.

Such family scenes scar a child's very soul in his infancy. They burn up all belief in everything good and fine. Utterly knowledge of passions for one too young to understand make it cynical and hard.

Listening to the mother's charges against the father and the father's accusations against the mother stays all respect for both, and home comes to be a place of torment and discord from which it escapes as soon as it possibly can.

The effect of these unhappy homes upon the children is written in the police records of our cities. Statistics show that from them come the great majority of the boys and girls who go astray.

Many conditions for which tonsils are commonly removed are not being helped by this procedure, says health authorities. Some believe there is less nervous disturbance in a child who still has tonsils.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Bedtime Hour May Need Modification

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

There comes a time when the baby, used to lying down quietly and going to sleep—rises up and proclaims to the world at large that this doesn't please him any more.

This is always a bad moment for the parent. She is so wedded to an undeviating bedtime that for fear of future difficulties she dare not be flexible.

At this moment it may be wise to introduce a toy with which the child would enjoy going to bed. A cuddly animal or doll for whose welfare he can feel responsible, is a good choice.

Just the novelty of the new toy may help him to forget that he is expected to go to sleep.

If he already has a bed full of favorite toys this won't work. But maybe a light will, if he has heretofore gone to sleep in the dark. The light is friendly.

Some children demand that the door be left open. At the same time when they are old enough to want to stay up, they also leave the family circle with reluctance.

If they can listen to the voices from outside the room, if they can still feel themselves part of the group, they may stay awake a little longer, but they will not be unreasonably resentful of their separation from it.

This is the time when the mother may have to put down the sides of the bed to facilitate the child's getting in and out and to avoid not only crying but hard falls on the sides. If he has this privilege he'll misbehave at first and climb in and out a dozen times.

But if he is unreasoned from leaving his room, by gate or the open door, he may stand there until he is sleepy, but then crawl back into bed again.

If none of these modifications of going to bed avert the nightly storm, then it is possible the bedtime itself is due for a change. Children do need later and later bedtimes as they grow and while 6 or 6:30 may have been a habit up to 12 months, later it may be more suitable to use 7 or 7:30 p.m. as the bedtime.

Presumably, then, the baby will stay asleep later in the morning, too. The only method which is taboo is to let the child scream himself into a state of exhaustion because the mother will not alter the existing conditions or sleeping hours. That is bad.

Our leaflet No. 38, "Hours of Sleep," may be yours by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

HIGH ON A WINDY HILLTOP

WARM SUMMER BREEZES and summer sunshine make Joie Clooney and Mrs. Alan MacDonald feel languid. They stop a moment and rest after a jaunt in the park. Both look cool and crisp in their gay cotton frocks.

Edmonton's Feminine Element Blossoming Into Crisp Cottons

Blossoming suddenly into gay, crisp 'n' cool cottons, Edmonton women are attractive and colorful as mint juleps.

Modified "longer length" gives us a hemline about 12 inches from the ground—anything longer detracts from that "cool, collected look" that's so important for the summer fashion picture.

Cottons are magic this year, with rich, ripe-fruity colors and new-processed fabrics that resist fading from washing and dazzling sunshine.

Materials run the gamut of the manufacturers' imaginations . . . from cool waffle piques, to slub rayons, rayon-linen mixtures, broadcloth, crease-resistant and washable Lyotay and Tootal fabrics . . . to pure linens, seersuckers, chambrays and straight cotton prints.

Cap sleeves, brief puffs act as simple fall-back for "different" necklines. Necklines that bare the throat, some the shoulders.

Or a plain round, high neckline—depending on the make-up of the frock. Styles are simple rather than elaborate with full, swishing skirt and modestly flared jobs carrying top honors for street and casual date-wear.

Nine-to-five girls adhere to the washable fabrics for summer street and office wear because of their pert "good look" coupled with the happy reaction to home sudsing.

A frock, easily washed and ironed at home is the only sensible choice for the well-groomed gal who wants to stay fresh and crisp for the entire day.

Repeated cleaning takes the life from cottons . . . a good tubbing in your laundry at home is the best answer.

ON THE STAIRWAY TO THE SUN

FLIPPANT BREEZES ruffle the locks of Joyce Farrell and Katie Kendrick as they're perched on stone steps. Miss Farrell looks crisp, and summery in her white and navy stripe frock and Miss Kendrick is wearing her polka-dot smartie for the first time.

KING-SIZE DOSE OF THE SUN FOR THESE GIRLS

LOLLING LAZILY on the green are Avery Smith and Olga Laruska. Pretty as pictures in their gay cotton frocks, the two girls are more than friendly to the rays of warm sunshine. Avery's checked gingham, off-the-shoulder effect charmer is ideal for promoting a smooth tan on the throat and shoulders.

SWEET IS THE AIR IN BLOSSOM-TIME

PERFUME FILLS THE AIR as the summer sun coaxes the blossoms from hiding. Mrs. Dalton Elton, pensive, considers the beauty of the summer scene. Garbed in a cotton frock with little-girl puffed sleeves and braid trimming, she pauses in her task of picking the sunny blossoms from the trees.

When I hear one expert compliment another one on the way a hand was played, I get out pen and paper and go to work because I know the hand was good. Oswald Jacoby complimented Tasha Stone for the way he played today's hand at the Cavendish.

Jacoby had to make two discards, which were the deuce and four of diamonds. But when Stone cashed the club ace and led another club which Jacoby won with the queen.

The theme of spades was returned, Stone won with the ace and led the nine of clubs. Again Jacoby was out. The discard of the jack of diamonds would make the ace and queen good. He let an small spade and Stone was able to cash dummy's three spades to make his contract.

U.S. Govt. Wants To Deport Minelli

SAN FRANCISCO, May 20—(AP)—U.S. immigration authorities are seeking to deport Nicholas Minelli to Canada as a terrorist convict and suspect in a $40,000 Windsor, Ont., bank robbery.

Irving Wixon, immigration chief here, said a warrant has been issued for Minelli's arrest. Minelli has been in jail at Fremont, Oakland, since May 8. He was arrested in connection with an attempted drug store burglary.

When Minelli will be removed to federal custody has not been determined. Wixon said there is a question of fixing bond. Oakland police are hesitant to turn their prisoner over to immigration because he would be entitled to liberally an $1,000 bond.

May rye declined the two-cent limit on commission house selling while the July future advanced on a few buying orders.

A small quantity of Canadian wheat was allocated to the United Kingdom under the long-term wheat agreement, with there were indications of export sales of Canadian barley to the Netherlands.

Class two wheat prices were reduced one cent from Friday.

Markets Continue At Higher Levels

Observers Claim Indications Point to Further Advances

TORONTO, May 29.—(CP)—Stock markets this week showed little overall change, but it was considered of interest that they operated at the higher levels established since mid-March.

In New York, for instance, the Associated Press 60-stock average closed out the Friday at 70.9, down 3 in the five days' trading but still around the 21-month high where it has hesitated for the last fortnight.

Some observers see continuance at present levels as a consolidation of earlier advances with some promise that some major move will be upward, and there is considerable feeling that valuation of issues still on the low side.

There are several possibilities. One is the conservative one that selective buying of promising stocks will continue. Another is that the next move forward by "conservative" buyers will encourage the general public to create a second upsurge on the speculative side.

In general the market seems poised against a downturn and to hold possibilities of an advance to a new level, but with dangers to unwary buyers.
